Rep. Kate Hogan hosts students for a Week on Beacon Hill

Representative Kate Hogan hosted four local students at the State House this summer for her high school program, “Rep. Hogan’s Week on Beacon Hill.” Participating students included Emily Floyd, Hannah King, and Nathaniel and Isaiah French, all of whom attend or recently graduated from Nashoba Regional High School. Rep. Hogan offers this program annually to provide high schools students with the chance to experience state government firsthand and learn about opportunities to be civically engaged.

The students travelled to Boston for one week during the months of June and July to participate in the State House’s Summer Speaker Series, explore the capitol building, and assist with projects in Rep. Hogan’s office. As a part of the Summer Speaker Series, the students heard from presenters such as Governor Baker, Attorney General Maura Healey, Speaker Robert DeLeo, Treasurer Deborah Goldberg, Auditor Suzanne Bump, legislators, and advocates. At the end of the program, each student wrote a short essay reflecting on what they learned during their week at the State House.

If you are a high school student or you know of a high school student who would be interested in participating next summer, please reach out to Rep. Hogan’s office in April for more information. Rep. Hogan can be reached at kate.hogan@mahouse.gov or by phone at 617-722-2130.

Emily Floyd

2016 Graduate from Nashoba Regional High School

Participated in Rep. Hogan's Week on Beacon Hill June 20 - 23

Emily said, "All the representatives I heard from come from a variety of backgrounds and jobs, and do what they do to give back to a community that they care about."

Nathaniel & Isaiah

*Junior and Sophomore at Nashoba Regional High School and members of Massachusetts 4-H club
Wekepeke*

Participated in Rep. Hogan's Week on Beacon Hill June 27 - 30

Nathaniel said, "Listening to the speakers talk really inspired me to do more for my community and help out and do as much as I can."

Isaiah said, "It's not every day that I dress up and I am not a huge fan of it, but I do have to say that it was worth it."

Hannah King

Junior at Nashoba Regional High School

Participated in Rep. Hogan's Week on Beacon Hill July 11 – 14

Hannah said, "Hearing the several presenters speak over four days allowed me to come to the realization that, one day I could become an elected official if I truly work hard, and put my all into it."
